We had a good meeting with good attendance in June. We heard from State Sen. Frank Ginn and State Rep. Tom Kirby. They gave us their perspective on the 2014 Legislative Session.

We will have 5 races to decide in the July 22 Primary Run-Off Election: U.S. Senate (Jack Kingston, David Perdue), 10th U.S. District (Mike Collins, Jody Hice), State School Supt. (Mike Buck, Richard Woods), School Board District 1 (Randall Holland, Debi Krause), and School Board District 4 (Will Dunn, Mike Shelley).

Our annual BBQ is less than 2 months away. Hope you are eagerly anticipating another standing-room-only crowd with lots of food, fun, and politics. We need you to sell and/or purchase as many tickets as possible. Invite your friends to attend with you. Most of the statewide nominees will be speaking, as we kick off the fall general election campaign in Barrow County. (If you did not receive tickets, please contact me as soon as possible. We don't want anyone to be left out.)

Our next regular monthly meeting will be Monday, July 21, 2014 at 7:30 PM in the Winder Woman's Club. Our speaker will be Melvin Everson, Executive Director of the Georgia Commission on Equal Opportunity. We are also signing up volunteers to provide tea, lemonade, and desserts for our annual BBQ on Saturday, August 23, 2014. Looking for BBQ sponsors and exhibits as well! Invite a friend! It will be worth your time. Mark your calendars! Be early for a good seat.

A MESSAGE FROM A PRESIDENT TO THE YOUTH OF HIS NATION

Ronald D. Gilbert, Seek the Old Paths, January 2014

While visiting in Uganda recently on a mission trip, I picked up a local newspaper called “New Vision.” Uganda’s president is Mr. Yoweri Museveni. Under the heading “Museveni Cautions Youth Against Loose Life,” the following was printed.

“President Yoweri Museveni has cautioned the youth against sexual promiscuity, instead exhorting them to make ‘the fear of God’ a cornerstone of their journey through life.

Museveni said many vices like smoking, binge drinking and ‘living a loose life’, which tend to ruin many youths, with some dying well before time, can be avoided by leading a life of prayer.

Drawing examples from his own life, a jovial Museveni told hundreds of youths during the Scripture Union golden jubilee celebration on Friday how fruitful the fear of God can be to one’s life.

Reminiscing about his formative years at Ntare School, where he was a chairperson of the Scripture Union, Museveni extolled the organization for shaping his character and helping him avoid taking on vices that have ruined and enslaved many.

The President likened the fear of God to ‘an internal Policeman who restrains you from doing evil like greed, selfishness and harming others.’

‘I am so grateful that I associated myself with Scripture Union, which I joined in 1961,’ the president said as he admonished the youth to lead ‘purposeful lives’ and avoid ‘sampling sex’ until they get married upon completion of their studies.

‘I have no time for alcohol,’ Museveni said in reference to vices likely to be picked up by purposeless youth, including smoking that he labeled as ‘burning one’s lungs.’

Drawing parallels between drunkenness and slipping into a coma, Museveni mused: ‘Why do I budget to get into a coma every day?’

He urged his young audience to avoid the pitfall of misinterpreting the Bible, which has bred laziness and a section of people producing many children they are incapable of caring for.

‘The birds in the air neither sow nor reap, but God cares for them,’ Museveni said, quoting a verse in the Bible that highlights God’s enduring mercy, adding: ‘Life is all about work and mastering technology to subdue the earth.’

The National Chairperson of Born Again Pentecostal Churches in Uganda, Joshua Lwere, lauded the Scripture Union for ‘50 years of shaping lives of young people.’ ‘The more people have the fear of God in their lives, the fewer criminals we are likely to deal with in society,’ Lwere explained.” (New Vision Newspaper, article by: Moses Walubiri, Tuesday, Nov. 5, 2013, Vol. 28, No. 221, Kampala, Uganda)

I copied the whole article as it appeared in the newspaper. I do not know what political party Mr. Museveni belongs to nor do I know much about his presidency. However, I do know he has something that many Americans wish our president had; and that is moral fiber. How long has it been since you heard a president of the USA make a speech encouraging our youth to abstain from sex until they are married? When have you heard a president of the USA encourage youth not to smoke or drink and to avoid “living a loose life?” What US President recently has encouraged the youth of our nation to “lead a life of prayer?”

I am ashamed to say what we hear from our president is “let’s keep abortion safe and legal.” Our president is in favor of the “morning after pill” for young girls and without parental knowledge! Our president pushes same sex marriage whenever he can!

Many Americans refer to nations like Uganda as “third world nations.” May God help us to one day rise to the morals of many “third world nations!”

“Liberals sometimes wonder why conservatives don’t have more respect for the United Nations. Maybe this will help: The U.N. has just elected Iran to the women’s-rights-committee – the U.N. Commission on the Status of Women. Iran, remember, is a regime that stones girls to death for the ‘crime’ of having been gang-raped. Our question is, Why do liberals respect the U.N. so much?” (National Review)

“The left scorned those who warned of a gay marriage ‘slippery slope.’ Well, the slope has slipped. Now The Washington Times reports on the world’s first ‘throuple,’ a married threesome, consisting of Doll, Kitten (who is pregnant), and Brynn Young from Massachusetts. As Virtue Online reports, they ‘worked with a specialist lawyer who drew up the paperwork and drafted the ceremony so that all three of them are obligated and bound to each other.’ The trio eventually plans to have three children, ‘one for each of them.’ And how many divorce lawyers will they need?” (Limbaugh Letter)

“Most of us, one year or another, gone to work, church, or an appointment at the wrong hour due to daylight-saving time. But few of us have suffered for it as severely as the Dublin gangster who was planting a car bomb on the day Ireland moved its clocks forward. He set the timer for 11:00 PM, not realizing it was already just a few minutes short of that hour, and the very next thing you know he was covered in blood and the Volvo SUV that had been his target was on fire. The non-detail-oriented perp was last seen getting into a taxi at New and Clanbrassil Streets, dripping gore all over the seat and no doubt invoking bitter imprecations on the head of Benjamin Franklin.” (National Review)

“You may have heard this sad story: On March 5 a woman’s mummified body was found in her car parked in her Detroit garage. Officials say 49-year-old Pia Farrenkopf died in 2008, but her body was not discovered until her house went into foreclosure. But, since most news reports ended there, you may not have heard the rest of the story. According to The Daily Caller, records show that the deceased Farrenkopf voted in the 2010 gubernatorial election. According to Michigan officials, the recorded vote was probably a ‘clerical error.’ Right. We already know that the closest thing to immortality on earth is a dead Democrat voter.” (Limbaugh Letter)
